mercenary unit all but annihilated during the Jihad. Indoctrinated with the history of these fallen warriors, Keane has sworn, like all of his kin, never to allow such madness to arise again. His dedication and that of many others like him have formed the ironclad heart of the reborn Wolf's Dragoons.

With his rock-solid physique, square jaw, and rigid, military bearing, a glance is all it takes to realize that Geo Keane is the product of generations of Clan selective breeding and the brutal training cycle that begins almost from birth. Born, bred, and trained as part of a MechWarrior sibko on Arc-Royal, last refuge of the Wolf Clan (in-Exile) and the original Wolf's Dragoons alike, Keane is the product of a long, hard-fought crawl out of the pages of history. His progenitors were none other than the survivors of the Wolf's Dragoons, the famed ex-Clan Clan Jade Falcon's massive Jupiter is a monstrosity of armor and firepower, built using superior Clan technology to deliver the maximum potential for destruction. This variant model, however, trades some of its legendary firepower for a larger fusion engine, gaining greater land speed at the expense of raw damage potential. However, still armed with heavy and accurate weapons, this Jupiter can bring lighter 'Mechs and vehicles to ruin in short order.

JF042-11A was part of the Jade Falcon Clan's garrison on Deia when the newly reconstituted Wolf's Dragoons struck in 3120. Captured in battle, the 'Mech was repaired and assimilated by the mercenary regiment as part of an ongoing campaign to recover its long-lost strength. Geo Keane, its current pilot, has nicknamed it "Phoenix Wolf" in the spirit of the Dragoons' continuing rebirth. A Clan-bred warrior to the last, Keane favors direct slug-fest combat to flanking tactics.
